About the Conference

The age of disruption has arrived in the global banking and finance industry.

Digital banking licensees been issued by several jurisdictions will change the nature of banking and finance bringing access to even more people than ever before.

Unserved segments of the markets will be reached by new digital banks. People without traditional banking accounts will be served by digital banks. How will digital banks and digitization impact on the Banking industry? How can traditional banks adapt and compete in this new challenging landscape? What will be the impact of digital banks? How can traditional banks be transformed by this new wave of digitization? Digitization will also have an impact on jobs in banks.
