New Challenges,
New Realities,
New Opportunities

About the Forum

The Forum on the New Sabah – New Challenges, New Realities and New Opportunities reviews the achievements and successes of the new State Government after one year, since the May 2018 General Elections. Sabah has entered a new era with the new State Government in place since May 2018. It has heralded a new Sabah – a new sense of direction and new hopes and aspirations for the State and People of Sabah.

After one year it will be apt and timely to review the new reality and new challenges as well as new opportunities in the State. The Forum will bring together Government, Business, Academic and Civil Society participants to discuss the key issues and trends impacting on the growth and sustainable development of Sabah.

The Forum will enable participants to feel the pulse of development in Sabah and discuss the way forward. It will address Sabah's development from a wholistic perspective – inclusive and sustainable development, peace and prosperity, security and stability and inter-ethnic and religious harmony.

About IDS

Institute for Development Studies (Sabah)

The Institute for Development Studies (Sabah) or IDS is an autonomous, non-profit-making research organisation. Established by the Sabah State Government on 1 August 1985, IDS is devoted to carrying out policy and problem-oriented research on socio-economic and public administrative development issues. IDS also serves as a think tank to the Sabah State Government.

IDS was incorporated as a company limited by guarantee on 1 April 1986. Prior to its incorporation, the Institute functioned under the name of the Institute for Public Policy Analysis (IPPA).

RATIONALE

Sabah is a developing state. As such the State Government has to be responsive and accommodative to the various divergent expectations and demands of the people, while ensuring that its scarce resources are optimally used and equitably distributed. For this purpose, the government needs objective advice and second opinion based on independent research and analyses to supplement and complement its existing sources of information and research capabilities. Therefore, IDS was created to assist the government to tap ideas and opinions, and also to analyse public policy proposals before they are implemented. In this way, the Government can enhance the quality of its decision-making process and thereby improve its policies and programmes for the overall benefit of the State and the people.

VISION

The vision of IDS is to be a premier research institute in Malaysia on development issues.

MISSION

The Mission of IDS is to assist the State and Federal Governments in meeting the needs and aspirations of the people through research and analysis of development issues based on integrity, professionalism and excellence.

OBJECTIVE AND FUNCTIONS

The fundamental objective of IDS is to promote and develop research-based decision making in government with regard to policy formulation and implementation.

To achieve this objective, the Institute performs the following functions:

- conducts problem-solving research on administrative and socio-economic development, and submits policy proposals to the government for consideration;
- analyses and evaluates policy proposals submitted by the public and presents recommendations to the State Government for possible implementation;
- organises seminars, forums and discussions with the aim of tapping public opinions on problems and issues which can affect socio-economic development in Sabah; and
- maintains a high quality information system.
